

ALEXANDRIA.

SATUR 'AV EVENING, NOVEMBER 24.

THERE HAS been some newspaper talk shout the treatment President-elect Harri son will receive at the hands of the South about the matter. The South is just as much Harrison will receive the same sort of treatment from her people as he will from those he may deserve. His treatment in both sections of the country will depend altogether on himself. His good actions will be commended in the South as in the North, and his bad ones condemned alike in both. If he shall make a good chief magistrate his praise will be sounded as loudly in the South as in the North; if a bad one, the fact that the South voted against him will not prevent her from censuring him as severely as he may be censured in the North. The South has all the freedom, privileges and immunities of the North, and will praise or censure the President, or any other citizen of the country, according to his deserts, and though she may seek causes for doing the former, she district, was in the city to day, having just is too fair and generous and liberal to do so for the latter.

SEVERAL OF the wiser republican leaders for that purpose, and bought most of them seeing that the people are bent upon having a reduction in the tariff on the necessaries heard there he is induced to believe that of life are already talking about the urgent demand for such a reduction. Among them a e Messra. Alger, Depew, Phelps, and others equally as prominent. The fight for a low tariff has begun in earnest, and unless the democrats be alert the republicans will take the lead in that fight. Reduce the cost of living to the poor, and if it must be that not only every man whose name was ever on the roll of the U. S. army, but the most distant relative of every such man, shall be pensioned, let an income tax be levied to raise the money requisite for that sectional purpose. If the democrats in Congress were wise they would soon have nearly all the unpurchasable white voters in the country on their side.

SENATOR BLAIR and Senator Ingalis are two of the shining republican lights. The former says the "civil service law is a thimble rig; you put your finger on a corrupt official and he isn't there, or, if he is, nobody is responsible for him." The latter says "If there will be more than forty thousand democrats in office on the 4 h of March next,' about which I know nothing, they should all be removed before the going down of the snn on that day, and more than forty thousand re ublicans appointed in their stead." A democratic bill to repeal the civil service law would certainly receive the hearty support of these two distinguished republican Senators, and in all probability of many more, assuredly of all the practical politicians among them.

WE HAVE received from the talented au ther, Major R. Taylor Scott, of Warrenton, a neatly printed copy of the address he delivered last month at the unveiling of the Pickett monument in Richmond. It is a chaste, beautiful and true production, reflecting honor upon the Major's dead and surviving comrades, and credit upon himself. But Mr. Thurman, the defeated democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency, would not approve it, as that distinguished gentleman d-nounced General Jackson, of Georgia, for saying that "in after years, when passion shall have abated, it will be conceded that in the war between the States the South fought for constitutional liberty." By all right-thinking readers, however, the sentiments of the address, as well as its style, will be commended.

REV MR SPRAGUE'S open avowal, in the Episcopal Church Congress in Buffalo last Wednesday of his belief in the theory of evolution was received without any apparent dissent, and that, too, though the bible, in which the reverend gentleman referred to and his hearers profess to believe, says that God ordained that every living crea ture should bring forth after its own kind, and not after the kind of some other creature, man from monkey and monkey from tadpole, for instance. The Episcopal Church should send missionaries to the Buffalo Congress, rather-than to Asia and Africa, where they have just as much chance of making converts, and no more, than Bud dhist and Mohammedan missionaries would have in this country.

THE MOST amusing thing connected with the ludicrous quarrel between Senator Blackburn and a man named Rucker is the fact of the silly and vain attempt of certain northern newspapers to effect a duel be tween the parties referred to, and to doubt the Senator's courage for not demanding one If the Senator and an equal were to fight a duel and either one be killed, none would condemn the survivor more than these very papers, the editors of which would as soon butt an advancing locomotive as fight a duel. The day of dueling has gone, and its at tempted revival in the South by northern non-duelists is looked upon as a grotesque farce in the section where it last had an

For unblushing avarice the men referred to are unquestionably entitled to the prize.

THE NEW YORK Press is authority for the statement that if Southern people now in New York desire the social companionship tersburg on Thursday night. The supposi ern people. There need be no question of P. B. S. Pinchbach and a social game of tion is that he went home at a late poker with him, they can have that desire intoxicated and laid down on the porch of a part of the Union as the North, and Mr. gratified at the Hoffman bouse, at which hotel that famous negro politician and his daughter are now stopping. Such things of the North, and that will be just such as have cessed to be the cause of any special

From Washington

Mr. Wilson, one of the counsel employed by chairman Quay, of the national republican committee, to attempt to prevent the electoral vote of Virginia from being cast for Cleveland, told the GAZETTE's corres pondent to day that nothing would be done in that case until after the Virginia returning board shall have acted. Whatever would be done in that case, he said, would be done after the action referred to shall have been taken, but whether proceedings would be commenced in the State or federal court, or where they would be commenced, had not yet been definitely determined.

Representative Lee, of the Alexandria returned from New York. He says the impression in New York concerning the republican victory in that State seems to be SEVERAL OF the wiser republican leaders that the republicans bought enough votes Mr. Harrison will be a more conservative President than some people anticipate. The General says he told his re-publican friends from the Pacific slope be met there that they had experienced the evils of an unassimilable race, and should therefore sympathize with the people of the South whose condition in that respect was worse than theirs, and that if it must be either negro or military rule he would pre for the latter. He says the Northern repub licans seem to be willing that the people of the South should continue to have control of their own State affairs, but that Congress must interfere in Presidential and Congressional elections.

Virginia democrate from the 8th Congres sional district of their State here to day say the republicans have agents in all the coun ties of that district hunting up evidence up-on which to base a contest for the seat to which General Lee was elected on the 6 h

An evil disposed telegram was received at the War Department here to day from Capt. Kingman, U. S. A., in charge of the repairs to Hard Times Levee, on the Mississipp the effect that ex-President Jefferson Davis, whose plantation adjoins that levee, in order to force the government to buy a strip of land, had refused to allow the work to preceed and had threatened to resort to force but that when informed that a gap would be left there if his opposition should be main tained, withdrew it and allowed the work to proceed. To day is democratic day on the House side of the Capitol. One of the five elective officers of that body now declines saying anything about the complexion of the House two are away, one, who from the first, until deputies, however, are in high spirits and say the democrats will have the House by at Cleveland's defent, which they base their confident assertions Mr. Dana says: is not given for the reason that it is feared the republicans will induce some of to defeated republican candidates, so as to offset the democratic majority. There is no doubt that the republicans are very much excited at the turn, and that at the meeting of their executive committee here next week they will resort to all sorts of means by which to effect a change, one of which will be to have the certificate of election issued to Brumm, a defeated republican, in Pennsylvania. The talk about dual houses amounts to nothing. If the republicans have a majority they will organize the House without opposition from the demo-crate, and if the latter have the majority. they will organize it, utterly regardless of "mailed" or any other sort of hands. For it to be otherwise would be revolution, for which the people of the country are not yet ripe. The democrats had stronger reasons for resorting to that course in 1876, and the republicans in 1884, but neither adopted it. It is reported that should there be a squabble for the House some weak kneed democrats would give way to avoid a fuss, but it is said here it would require more courage to do that than to stand in the foremost rank for the rights of the party.

The clean sweepers here are rather low that has reached here to the effect President elect Harrison will be a stickler for the civil service law.

Mr. Lawrence Gardiner, president of one of the democratic clubs of this city, has been appointed a member of the inauguration committee.

Senator Kenna, of W. Va., is in the city today. He says the democrats in the legis lature of his State have a certain and in disputable majority of one, and that the electoral vote of the State will be cast for Cleveland. The count in the vote for Governor has not yet been completed, but, he says, he risks nothing in saying that the democratic candidate will be inaugurated. He says that one democratic Congressman there has been certainly elected, and the other three are in doubt, with probabilities in favor of the democrats. Mr. Kenna says the repub-lican frauds in his State had no previous equal there.

The Teemer and O'Connor boat race, for $2,500, was rowed on the Potomac this afternoon, between the Long and the Aqueduct bridges. But little interest was taken in it and there were few spectators. The betting

During his administration he did nothing to win the confidence and support of his party; in fact, he did not care a copper for the real interests of the democrats. What he worked and schemed for from beginning to end was the welfare and advancement of Mr. Grover Cleve'and. In his manner toward his sup porters he was always cold and overbearing, and he never by any chance put himself out to be courteons or accommodating. He thought himself a man of destiny, and so far above his followers that he could kick them about as he pleased. He has finally discovered his mistake. TO FIND STANLEY .- It is stated that Mr. P. W. Scott, a member of the House of Delegates of Virginia from Goochland county, has offered his services to the Royal Geographical Society of England for the purpose of finding Stanley, the explorer, and Emin Bay. He proposes to penetrate the country as a native would and then arouse the people of Africa to aid him in preventing the murder of Stanley. The Richmond Whig says:
"Mr. Scott has lived in Africa a number of years and speaks the languages of several tribes. He is a man of great energy and perseverance in whatever he undertakes, and if his proposition is accepted he will no doubt come as near accomplishing his object as any one could come.
